

Call for abstract

6th August, 2024

We are pleased to announce the Call for Abstracts for the upcoming Poster presentation session which is going to be held on the occasion of CDPH day on 10th Bhadra, 2081 (26th August, 2024). This poster presentation session will provide a dynamic forum for students, academicians, researchers and practitioners to present their research findings and innovations.

Guidelines for abstract submission

- Abstracts must present original research conducted exclusively in Nepal and adhere strictly to the guidelines provided. The abstracts must be submitted before the deadline via email.
- Abstracts should provide a comprehensive overview of the research, including clear objectives, methodology, key findings, and conclusions.
- The abstract should not exceed 300 words.

Abstract Layout Guidelines

- Use Arial font, size 12, line spacing: 1.5.
- Avoid abbreviations and references.
- No tables or figures are allowed in the abstract but these are recommended for posters.
- Ensure no typos or grammar errors.
- No changes are allowed after submission.

Template for the Abstract

Title: [Concise and informative title, maximum 25 words] (Arial font, size 16, bold, use title case except for articles, conjunctions and prepositions)

Authors:

[Full names of all authors (first name, middle name, last name) with affiliations]

Example: Rajesh Karki¹, Sujata Shakya²

¹Department(s), Degree, Institution(s)

²Department(s), Degree, Institution(s)

Structured Abstract:

Structure the abstract with the following sub-headings:

- Background (≤ 50 words)
- Objective
- Methods

- Results
- Conclusion
- Keywords (up to four)

Thematic areas

- Planetary health/Global health/One Health
- Epidemiology, biostatistics and population studies
- Health promotion and disease prevention
- Environmental and occupational health
- Health policy and management
- Maternal and child health
- Nutrition and food security
- Infectious and non-communicable diseases
- Mental health
- Adolescent health
- Healthy aging
- Sexual and reproductive health and rights
- Health systems and services research
- Social and behavioral sciences
- Digital health and innovation
- Public health laboratory sciences
- Health economics
- Wider determinants of health
- Gender equity and social inclusion
- Urban health

Deadline for abstract submission: 14th August, 2024.

Submission process:

Electronic submissions: Use the designated template and submit to sujata_8@iom.edu.np.

Review and evaluation process:

Abstracts will be reviewed by a committee consisting of poster presentation specialists and subject matter experts. Evaluation of the abstracts will be based on the relevance to the theme, scientific quality and originality, clarity of objectives and methodology, and significance of the findings. The selected applicants will be notified via email or phone call.

Awards:

The best poster presentation will be awarded after a final review by all participants.

Contact:

For further inquiries, please contact:

Mrs. Sujata Shakya, Email: sujata_8@iom.edu.np, Contact No.: 9841463678